Curator's Pick

We are sharing pieces from our galleries and collections to help bring peace and inspiration while we all practice social distancing. Our curators have chosen these pieces to give you the museum experience from home. To see more #CuratorsPicks, follow us on our social media channels.

Morigami Jin (Japanese, 1955–). "Reclining I," 2004, madake bamboo. Museum Purchase: Windgate Fund. 2005.49

Reclining 1. Moragami Jin's parents were traditional bamboo artists, creating functional objects. Using bamboo as a sculptural medium Morigami often manipulates the material with a hexagonal plaiting technique called mutsume. Reclining I displays a combination of rounded forms that resemble a lounging elongated human figure. Becasue of works like this, Morigami has been compared to modern British sculptor Henry Moore.
